

Kowalski Petrowski

Kowalski Petrowski is one of many students in University of Toronto. He is 21 years old in his third year of university. Unfortunately, due to a pandemic, his university life has been mostly online.

Kowalski has many hobbies from home. He mainly hangs out with his high school friends virtually while performing other activities. His best friend, Rico often games with him. They like playing horror games like dead by daylight together. They enjoy the spooky nature of them and the immersion. Kowalski also reads books at night before sleeping. Oftentimes he and his friends read the same books which allows them to talk about it. On weekends, Kowalski makes brownies with his family and enjoys a movie night together. It's an important way for him to stay connected with his family.

Despite being introverted, he longs for meeting new people. All his friends thus far have been high school friends. While meeting new people is easy enough in certain classes, connecting with them is harder. One of the obstacles is the lack of schedule sharing with them. He would like to connect better with new people he meets by comparing courses to allow them to take it together. With that he can further solidify the friendship as they can share more in common.

Kayla Veena

Kayla Veena is an eager student who recently graduated high school. She has been accepted to the University of Toronto and is ready to make many new friends. She isn't sure what program to enter but she finds science and space interesting.

Kayla is popular among her friends. She likes to do everything with them such as eating lunch together (burritos with guac is their favourite), shopping together and even sleeping over during weekends. Kayla is the best cook among her friends and likes to make Mexican food. She learned how to cook from tv shows such as MasterChef and Cutthroat Kitchen where teams/players must compete under strict stressful conditions.

Entering first year is an exciting but also stressful experience. Her high school is relatively small, and Kayla knew most people. University, on the other hand, is much larger and Kayla is afraid that making friends will be much harder now. In addition, there are many more courses offered compared to high school and as such Kayla feels overwhelmed. She wants a helpful course guide to help her choose her courses. Meeting new people will also help her transition to the new life especially when they are in similar situations.
